Your key tools will be Microsoft Office and Outlook, various IT support tools and OilfieldOS.

Skills & experience: Our new team member...

...has 7-10 years of experience from a similar position. Besides having knowledge of and interest in logistic processes, you also have a business-oriented mindset. You know how to keep a sense of perspective in a deadline-driven environment. You possess a great drive and the desire to move things forward taking ownership in delivering good results even on a tight schedule. As a person, you are hands-on, good in taking decisions under pressure and structured and systematic. You can work independently and proactively.

You Will Also Be Responsible For

- Defining logistics processes (i.e. warehousing, transportation, packaging and handling)
- Organise materials for the project
- Project management
- Perform continuous improvements of working processes
- Work with Lean principles, e.g. flow including the supply of materials
- Participate in projects cross-functionally

We Expect That You

- Thrive in handling several tasks at the same time while prioritising your efforts optimally – always with a focus on how to create value for the project
- Have a structured and well-organised approach to your tasks.
- Are a team player able to spot possibilities for improvements and getting your energy from achieving team results
- Are well acquainted with English both orally and in writing
- Great colleagues that support each other and work together
